Attachment to the Advisory Office Action

In the amendment after final office action the applicants argued following:

a) That neither WIDEMAN nor SANDSTROM teach or suggest adding a constant amount of resin instead of increasing amount of an aromatic oil.

The above arguments are not commensurate with the scope of the claims, since the claims do not address addition of oil. The prior art of record as applied against present claims discloses resin in the required amounts.

b) Addition of resin to the rubber in amount of 4-10 pbw provides superior effects not disclosed in WIDEMAN and SANDSTROM.

With respect to the above argument, the examples provided in the specification do not overcome the combination of WIDEMAN and SANDSTROM, since they do not teach the specific composition of the prior art.

c) The compounding ratios of silica and carbon black of SANDSTROM are not taught in WIDEMAN.

With respect to the above argument, the compounding ratio of silica to carbon black is not commensurate with the scope of the claim since pending claims only require that the two fillers be in mixture. Second, the prior art of SANDSTROM, was utilized to provide for ratios of rubbers not fillers.

In view of the above discussion, applicants' arguments are not persuasive. Applicants' response has been entered since it does not introduce new issues and considerations. All the rejections of record are incorporated here by reference.
